The brilliance of color and the creativity of design shown by the Homecoming window of the Class of 1970, in its junior year, represent more than the traditional class competition. This window represented a peak of class enthusiasm, and will be remembered as a major expression of class unity. Homecoming, one of the highlights of Bellevue's all-school activities, brings into sharp focus the pride which we share in being a part of our school.

Dedication

The blue and gold legend of Frank Svoboda is now a part of the proud tradition of Bellevue High School. Years from now, the football history made by Coach Svoboda and his teams will still be remembered as some of the very best. Sports have been knit into Coach's life since his boyhood days in Elma, Washington, where he played softball, soccer, volleyball, football, basketball and baseball, specializing in the latter three during the years at Elma High School. "Playing sports was about all there was to do in that time and that place. Times have changed! It used to be a great thrill to take a trip to Aberdeen or Chehalis and play a game there," said Coach. When Elma played Olympia, the Olympia coach was "Chick" Rockey, grandfather to Bill Rockey, and a person whom Mr. Svoboda remembers as "an old-time school man."

In football, Elma was able to take on Tacoma, Bremerton, and other bigger schools, proving that the cities have nothing over the small town: a Thanksgiving Day game in Elma once drew a crowd of 3,000 persons, nearly the entire population of Gray's Harbor County!

Young Svoboda attended Central Washington, in Ellensburg, although during high school he had no idea that he would continue his education into college. Following his service as an Air Cadet in the Air Force, Svoboda decided not to spend his life as a logger, and with the aid of the G.I. Bill, went on to study education and coaching. His high school coach, Rich Rowe, is still coaching in Edmonds: "I admired him very much, and I still do!"

The beginning of the climb to success was at Sumner High School, where Svoboda had a position as assistant coach for four years. Upon invitation from George Brain, former superintendent of Bellevue Schools and a friend of his from Ellensburg, Svoboda came to Bellevue Jr. High, where he stayed for five years. From there, Bellevue High was the next stop, and the summit was attained in a mighty career lasting eleven years. "My first love is football, but I love all sports," and the thoughts which he has concerning athletics typify some of the characteristics which display themselves in Coach Svoboda: "A boy learns to work for what he achieves; he learns of the constant give and take which is fundamental to all life. A kid learns to sacrifice for a team and that is something he needs to do in other parts of life. They learn not to be quitters."

The heritage which Coach Svoboda has left for us is more than can be written about, but it will not be forgotten. For the leadership in football teams and the inspiration for the whole school, we wish to thank you, Coach, and it is on behalf of a grateful student body that we dedicate the 1970 Beacon in your name.

Mr. Henderson

As acting principal Mr. Charles Henderson had only a year to accomplish goals most men in his position take years to attain. Mr. Henderson did not plan to be easy on himself during his one year. At the beginning of the year he set up five goals that he wished to attain. They were 1) to unify the student body, 2) to develop the idea of leadership, 3) stress the importance of student-teacher relationship, 4) develop a program that allows for conversation between teachers and students outside the classroom, and 5) re-humanize the educational process. In attempting to fulfill these goals Mr. Henderson has drawn from his varied and unique past - from piling slash in the timber, to head x-ray technician at Doctor's Hospital in Seattle, to dealing with the problems of a modern day high school. His attitude through the year was one of involvement with the students. As principal, Mr. Henderson did not consider himself too dignified to participate in the everyday fun of Bellevue High School.

Given The Chance, He Proved Himself

Mr. Wilson

"Hello-ooo Mr. Wilson!" is a familiar greeting heard down and around the halls of Bellevue High, and having become used to it, Mr. Wilson, Bellevue's Business Coordinator, responds good-naturedly no matter who the "menace" may be. Mr. Wilson first came to Bellevue two years ago, after ten years of teaching Biology, coaching football and baseball, and holding the position of business coordinator at Garfield High School and after four years of serving as vice-principal at Cleveland High. He feels that students should be given more freedom as long as they realize that along with it comes responsibility. He especially likes to see students who are able to handle responsibility and who take advantage of the opportunities given to them.

Mr. Hines

The change which Mr. Darrell Hines has taken in his occupation has not changed his attitudes toward the students at Bellevue High. As Dean of Students, Mr. Hines is still very much concerned with the responsibility each student should accept as a part of the Associated Student Body. He feels very strongly that students should be made aware of and accept the consequences for the decisions they are continually making. As a person who has given a lot of thought to school life, Mr. Hines realizes that the school has to be open to change to meet our obviously changing society.

Mr. Hausheer

If credit is to be given for the new additions to Bellevue's activities schedule (such as the powder puff football game and the Junior Prom), it must be given to Mr. Maurice Hausheer, Bellevue's Activities Coordinator. His job is to set up the activities calendar each year, and few realize the diplomacy and persuasiveness needed to the school. For example, Mr. Hausheer spent over an hour on the telephone trying to persuade Renton High School to play their football game against Bellevue on Bellevue's field. However, he was victorious—and so was our team. Mr. Hausheer expresses his desire students to become involved in school activities and take advantage of the opportunities offered to them: "school is as good as the faculty and students make it".

Home-town boy makes good

Dr. William H. Morton, in his first year as Superintendent of Bellevue Public Schools, is a graduate of Overlake High School which is now Bellevue High School. Prior to his appointment as Superintendent Dr. Morton served in the capacity of teacher, Assistant Principal, Director, and Assistant Superintendent for Bellevue Schools. Acting as Superintendent of Schools is not easy in this day and age, but we feel that Dr. Morton is especially competent and capable. Being from Bellevue and a graduate of Bellevue High justifies our pride in our home-town boy.

Efficiency could be called their keynote, as they prepare our lunches, keep our school clean and do countless other essential jobs. We would like to express our appreciation to them for helping the student body, the faculty and administration operate more smoothly.

Whether helping our reading habits or our attendance habits, the librarians and secretaries are always on the go. Their good judgment is essential to the efficient everyday routine of our school. Many hours are spent by the secretaries typing, filing and dittoing, with never ending enthusiasum. The librarians can be seen before, during and after school helping students on research projects or finding books and other materials. Helping us is their main concern, and we the students are thankful for all their help.

Read it, speak it, enjoy it— The english language

The English Department this year has seen many changes and Senior English was the first to see them made. There is now an alternate class to Senior English, appropriately entitled Senior English Alternate. Next year will be even more radical. Semester courses with only one or two semesters required will replace the compulsory two years that has been the requirement of the past. Instead of all-encompassing areas, classes will be more coordinated towards themes and ideas that students will meet in literature, such as "Man in Society", "Utopias", and "Search for Identity". Specific classes of literature including short stories, poetry and science fiction will be offered in depth. Film-making, reading and witnessing plays, as well as more conventional English courses will be offered so that more students will be interested. Courses will be rated on a scale of difficulty so that all students will be able to take advantage of the many classes offered. This program, the result of three years of work, should have a great deal of appeal for most students.

Past, present, and hope for the future

This year the Social Studies Department has taken a new direction concerning subject matter in that it is offering students new concepts of the past and the present with relationship to the good man, the good life, and the good society. From this it is hoped that students may be better able understand themselves and their fellow man. But examining the past and the present is not enough. Students must now define for themselves what kind of future they want to live in, for the generation in the high schools today will determine what the life styles will be tomorrow.

Math and science

The increasing complexity of modern technology which characterizes modern life has forced continuously growing demands upon the Mathematics Department at Bellevue High. This year, under department head Mr. Harry Iverson, the members of the department are struggling to keep pace with the increase in demands. In a school where about 80% of the students will attend some form of higher education, the Math Department meets the problem of preparing them for the basic mathematical requirements. Perhaps it is the physical re-location of the department, from the 700 building to the second floor of the main building, which has provided the additional stimulus allowing the department to operate in a truly dimensional fashion.

They all add up

As a result of the scientific world in which we now live, it is important that students get a good education in the sciences. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Hilliard, the science department gives students that important education. At Bellevue the emphasis is on experimentation rather than memory work. The reason the Bellevue High science department is so efficient is in the quality of the teachers and the teaching methods. After taking the biology "BSCS" program, students will have a broad understanding for a biological science in college. Many students that have completed the "Chem Study" program in chemistry are awarded Advanced Placement in college chemistry courses. The physics department uses the "PSCS" program with emphasis on student discovery rather than teachers' lectures.

Learning how to get along with the people around us could be called the Communication Department's main concern. This large department includes driver training, distributive education, chorus, orchestra, band, speech, drama, foreign languages, phys. ed., art, and industrial arts. Whether singing, or giving a speech, the people in the Communication Department are preparing us for a life in a crowded society. Since most of the classes are electives, the students put forth a special effort. Many action-packed hours are spent in choir, shop, or foreign language rooms, preparing us for the future.

ACTIVITIES

ASB

Last year, as a result of the prevalent opinion among students that they were not being fairly represented, the student body voted overwhelmingly to replace the old standard form of government then in operation with a new and novel system. The intent was to make the government more responsive to the student's feelings. To do this, we adopted a bicameral system: one house, the Senate, consists of 30 elected representatives; and the other, the Assembly of Students, includes anyone who attends any of its weekly meetings. The change that we instituted shifted the burden of the expression of a student's ideas and feelings from an elected representative onto his own shoulders; if an idea he favors is not dealt with, he has no one to blame but himself. In helping with the change in responsibility for representation that was inherent in the change of government, this year's officers adopted the role of helping interested students to develop their initiative. We felt that by assisting students to make the wheels of government turn, instead of ramrodding our own programs through, we would distribute the benefits of experience in governmental operation. Our primary goal has been to secure any possible benefits of government while at the same time having the greatest possible number of students gain experience in working with that government. The channels of legal process have been opened this year for any student who wanted to make use of them. A number of students availed themselves of the opportunities provided; more striking, however, is the far greater number of students who did not participate even though it was relatively painless to do so. We can only hope that those who did involve themselves have profited from their experience, and that they will continue to make use of it in the future. future.

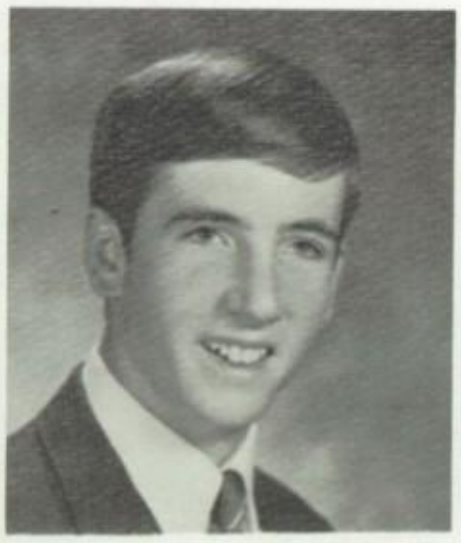
The Public Relations Board, a product of last year's change in government, was formed to relate business between the Senate and the Assembly of Students and to the student body. This year, the 6-member board worked to keep students informed by printing bills, posting minutes, and writing bulletin announcements.

Student Faculty Board



Ken Britton
Activities Coordinator

The Student Faculty Board under the direction of Ken Britton, Student Advisor, confronted the mounting problems of BHS, such as open campus, and made recommendations to the administration and school board regarding these issues. This year the Board was made up of eight students and eight members of the faculty.

Interhigh Council

The Bellevue delegates to the Interhigh Council attempted to represent the ideas of our student body to the district-wide council throughout the year. They were constantly among the leaders of the group in proposing activities, programs, and legislation. Much of the success of the Council is attributable to their efforts.

Drivers' Council

The Drivers' Council was more useful than ever this year, with the heavily crowded parking conditions at B.H.S. We serve not only to facilitate student parking but also to improve student driving habits in general.

OFFICERS: Katy Soderberg, president; Mac Phares, vice pres; Laurie Ray and Cathy Apets, secretaries.

Young Left

Young Democrats devote themselves to the eternal fight against bad politicians, bad policies and rigid bureaucracy by supporting good politicians, good policies, and efficiency. The club also seeks confrontation with Young Republicans who have not been heard from for over a year.

Young Right

It has been said on occasion that we Republicans do not belong to any organized political party. We must disagree. Conservatives and liberals alike have united under the GOP banner. Under the astute leadership of Mr. Warren Shaw, the Young Republicans have participated in numerous activities, all benefitting both our party and society.

Race Relations

Race Relations is certainly one of the most pressing problems in this country today. The problem will ultimately be ours to solve; the group working on it this year, including Bellevue representative Katie Ricklefs, believes that the sooner we begin work, the sooner the problem will be solved. They get involved, and have been attempting to coordinate the activities between Seattle and Bellevue Schools.

Young Democrats

JR. Statesmen

During recent years, this club has gained distinction at a number of conferences and model U.N. assemblies in Washington and across the border to the north. The members have received particular insight into the problems of the world and their solutions.

D.E.

Change was the key to this year's Distributive Education program starting with the Student Store. This change was mainly due to the return of Mr. Jack Hruska, D.E. coordinator. D.E. is designed to teach students principles of retail selling, advertising and marketing.

Young Republicans

Bellevue Forum

The "Forum" attempts to bring the world to the students by inviting and assisting guest speakers to speak on anything from skiing in Switzerland to malnutrition in Biafra. The members themselves also participate in their own brand of discussion.

Boys' State

Girls' State

Boys' and Girls' State is a learning experience for all those who attend. After a week at either Gonzaga University or Central Washington State the 5 Bellevue representatives--Bill Davis, Tom Seal, Dorothy Gunn, Julie Porter and Johna Beall--came back with a working knowledge of how our government works on all levels. It is the hope of the American Legion that these young people will put their knowledge to good use in their future lives.

BHS Students Abroad

When people think of foreign countries they tend to associate them with a major industry, physical feature or perhaps its political tendencies. It doesn't usually occur to people that in that foreign country each person is an individual and that they can't all be labelled the same. I think that it is in this realization that countries are made up of individual people--not a faceless mass--that the benefit of the exchange program occurs, because you can't understand a country if you don't understand the people. There are many variables in an individual's make-up. This includes things like social attitudes, a country's history, and of course, the parents. And in most cases there is a big difference between life in Bellevue and life in Penrith. In Penrith there isn't a lot of pressure on students to get a college education and where in Bellevue, VietNam is just one draft board away. In Penrith, VietNam is a fairy tale with chapter one having the title of Milai. The longer I stay in England the more I enjoy it. During my stay I've gotten used to living differently than I did in Bellevue. This is valuable because it allows me to see things in a different light and this can only help to broaden one's outlook on life.

Sincerely, Dave Round

Man is naturally a curious being: continuously reaching out beyond his visual limitations, searching, discovering, advancing, gaining more and more knowledge to help him attempt the impossible, reveal the unknown. Man, so scientifically advanced, hasn't discovered another way to settle differences other than war, discrimination and violence. Do we really know and understand our fellow man? The difficulty I experienced during my first few months of not only adjusting to, but understanding the customs, the way of thinking and living here in France revealed to me the answer is "no". I realize now how very sheltered I had been in that I thought there was only one way to do things--the American way--and worse, I thought it was the only right way. Six thousand miles away from family and friends I was confronted with the inability to communicate, understand or identify with people. For the first time in my life I was different. However, after forming genuine, loving relationships, I no longer sense this difference. Now I find myself asking why all men can't come together like this, not as Frenchmen, Americans, white men or black men but simply as brothers for "Hath we not all one father; hath not one God created us?" (Malachi 2:10) Having tasted a small portion of this "coming together" I only hunger for more and because of this I feel the exchange program is vitally important, for it is an initial step in the direction of creating an understanding between the people of two countries, this being the essence of any exchange. It has "opened my eyes". It has made me realize there is more to this world than "the American way". How many of us are taking the time to listen, or better, making an effort to understand? I'm looking forward to returning with optimism, for "If we only fill the vacuum of our lives with love--love answers so completely, it would not matter, as we plow through this maze of existence, from whence we came or where we are going."

Your comrade abroad, Julie Van Sant

I am Tokutaro Amae from Sendai, Japan. I have had a real nice time in Bellevue and I am planning to come back here again to study about Space Engineering and Economics two years later. When I came here I didn't like the noisy dances and girls. But now I like both of them very much.

Whenever any of you come to Japan, please write to me. It's a pleasure for me to take you around. My address is: 3--1--48 Hachiman, Sendai, Japan 980. Tel: (0222) 25-4751. And I hope to meet all of you again.

Tokutaro Amae, Japan

School started one week after my arrival and my activities have not been varied yet. I get used to many aspects of the U.S. and feel I can go deeper in understanding your mentality. My background is too fragile for me to express a sensible opinion. I'm still gathering information and looking for experiences. My aim? To conciliate fun with work. There is so much to do, learn, see that I'll never make it. If my opinions are stabilized next August my experience will be fruitful. Finally, I fear homecoming.

Alan Benon, France

Here I get the chance to thank all teachers and students of BHS who made it possible for me to find my place as a student. I never felt to be this year's guy from Germany, but I was accepted as a student and friend. During my year at BHS I made a lot of fine friends. Everybody was open-minded and understanding in discussing any kind of problem. I hope this will add up a little bit for a better understanding between the nations of the world. A school teaches Math and English and sometimes we are bored with it. But we should not forget the most important thing a school should give us is guidance for living together with understanding. And BHS does that. And I will never forget it.

Hans--Jurgen Landig, Germany

I attended a school--BHS--such as I have never seen before. At first the friendly and happy atmosphere in that school surprised me. It was so strong that I felt pretty soon I was a part of the BHS student body. I will never forget the spirit and enthusiasm which was unceasingly maintained by the cheerleaders and reigned among spectators during the ball games. The teacher-student relationship nicely surprised me too. The extracurricular activities, so many, really make you enjoy the school. I'd like to thank everybody--students and teachers--for the warmth, the friendliness and the helpfulness they have given me and to say to the BHS student body: Be proud of your school!

Michel Tiberino, France

When I think back on some of the many things I have done during this year at BHS I know it has really been worthwhile. Those wild football games with the "Pack" were about the best. It's things like these that made my year in the U.S. It was mainly people I came to learn about and boy, did I learn! The image we get of the American is completely false, I'm glad to report. There, people are warm and friendly and really made me welcome at the beginning of the year. This was evident when I joined in all of their "activities." Extracurricular of course! But school was fun as well and those pep assemblies! All that school spirit. (ahem!) I would like to end up thanking everybody at school and home for making this year so much fun and worthwhile and just think, I may come back sometime. (gasp!)

Derek Carruthers, England

I can only make comparisons between the United States and France as a point of reference. I don't know much yet but I'll try to tell my feelings. The U.S. is usually known as a symbol of a certain kind of freedom. Referring to that which I've seen, I think it's true. There is freedom at school: no guards to check if you respect the rules, liberty of taking any subject you please, liberty and responsibilities of attendance and the use of cars. Their social life is exciting. By social life, I mean meetings, assemblies at school, but also meetings with other people outside of school. That compels me to talk about girls. The fact that teenagers are free much earlier than French ones make them seem more mature. But that doesn't work for girls. American girls look kind of childish in their way of dressing and acting. They're more made up and look like dolls. Another striking thing, Americans like to work. The bad thing is the weather which is a bit depressing. But people are so friendly and out-going that the weather really doesn't matter.

Keeping a part of our American Heritage is important to everyone. But few of us realize that heritage is living right around us now, our Indian brothers. We've tried in various efforts to make many innovations in their lives, but what we have failed to realize is that through all of those years of teaching not one Indian has turned white. Bellevue Youth Friends of Indians and Eskimos try to keep the students of B.H.S. in contact with our "American Heritage."

Honor Society

The Honor Society encompasses the upper 10% to 15% of students on an academic level. Under the direction of Ben Ashbaugh, the club advisor, there is an increasing tendency to become more involved in school affairs. But the all-day cruise to Kiona Lodge still highlights the year's activities.

Made up of many different types of people, this year's Wolverine Guard enthusiastically tackled the service projects which they found throughout the high school and community of Bellevue. Free from the burdens of policing the school, the Guard got the feeling of enjoyment and fulfillment one gets from doing something for another's benefit.

Beacon

If you ever wonder about the frantic yelling coming from room 206, you can be assured the production of the annual is under control. For the staff, deadlines, last-minute rushes and unending organization results in a beautiful product to be prized for years. We take pride in presenting this 1970 Beacon.

VOL. XXII NO. IX BELLEVUE HIGH SCHOOL, BELLEVUE, WASHINGTON 1970

The diversity of student interests has shown itself in the bi-monthly publication of the Barque, the school newspaper. The editorials, features and news stories reflect the attitudes and activities of Bellevue students. In all of our editions we strived for "quality not quantity".

Science Seminar

Military Science

The club's basic purpose was to analyze the strengths of various nations and how these strengths caused various policies and events. Our purpose was not to glorify "Peace through World Conquest", but to contribute to world wide peace and security. We realize that only through analyzing what has occurred in the past can we move to bring hope of honorable peace in the future.

Chess

The Chess Club, affectionately known as the Pawn Pushers League, practices at least twice a week and exercises particularly the fingers for the purposes of pushing clocks, moving pieces and tipping over boards when the going gets rough.

Rennaisance

These activists have managed to produce editions of the Rennaissance that surpass all others prior to it. Each issue is assembled around a central idea, usually satirizing life in the U.S. and B H S. The tradition is to Continue to Create ideals in the product of their efforts.

Debate

Dutch Leonard

This years debate team, in the great tradition of BHS debate, has "forged ahead" to out class all the other schools around. Picking up five trophies at the first tournament, the team went on to a stunning sweepstakes victory of 240--105 over the 2nd place team at the next tournament. More tournaments are always ahead, presumably with a similar degree of success.

French Horn Quartet

The Bellevue High School Band has been very active this year. On February 11 we had the pleasure of working with Mr. Paul Tanner and Mr. Kenneth Sawhill, two nationally known trombonists. There are seventy members in our Band and we have indeed had many hours of practical fun together. The Band has played for all of the major sporting events and has added greatly to the spirit of the games. We really love music and have tried earnestly to represent Bellevue High to the fullest.

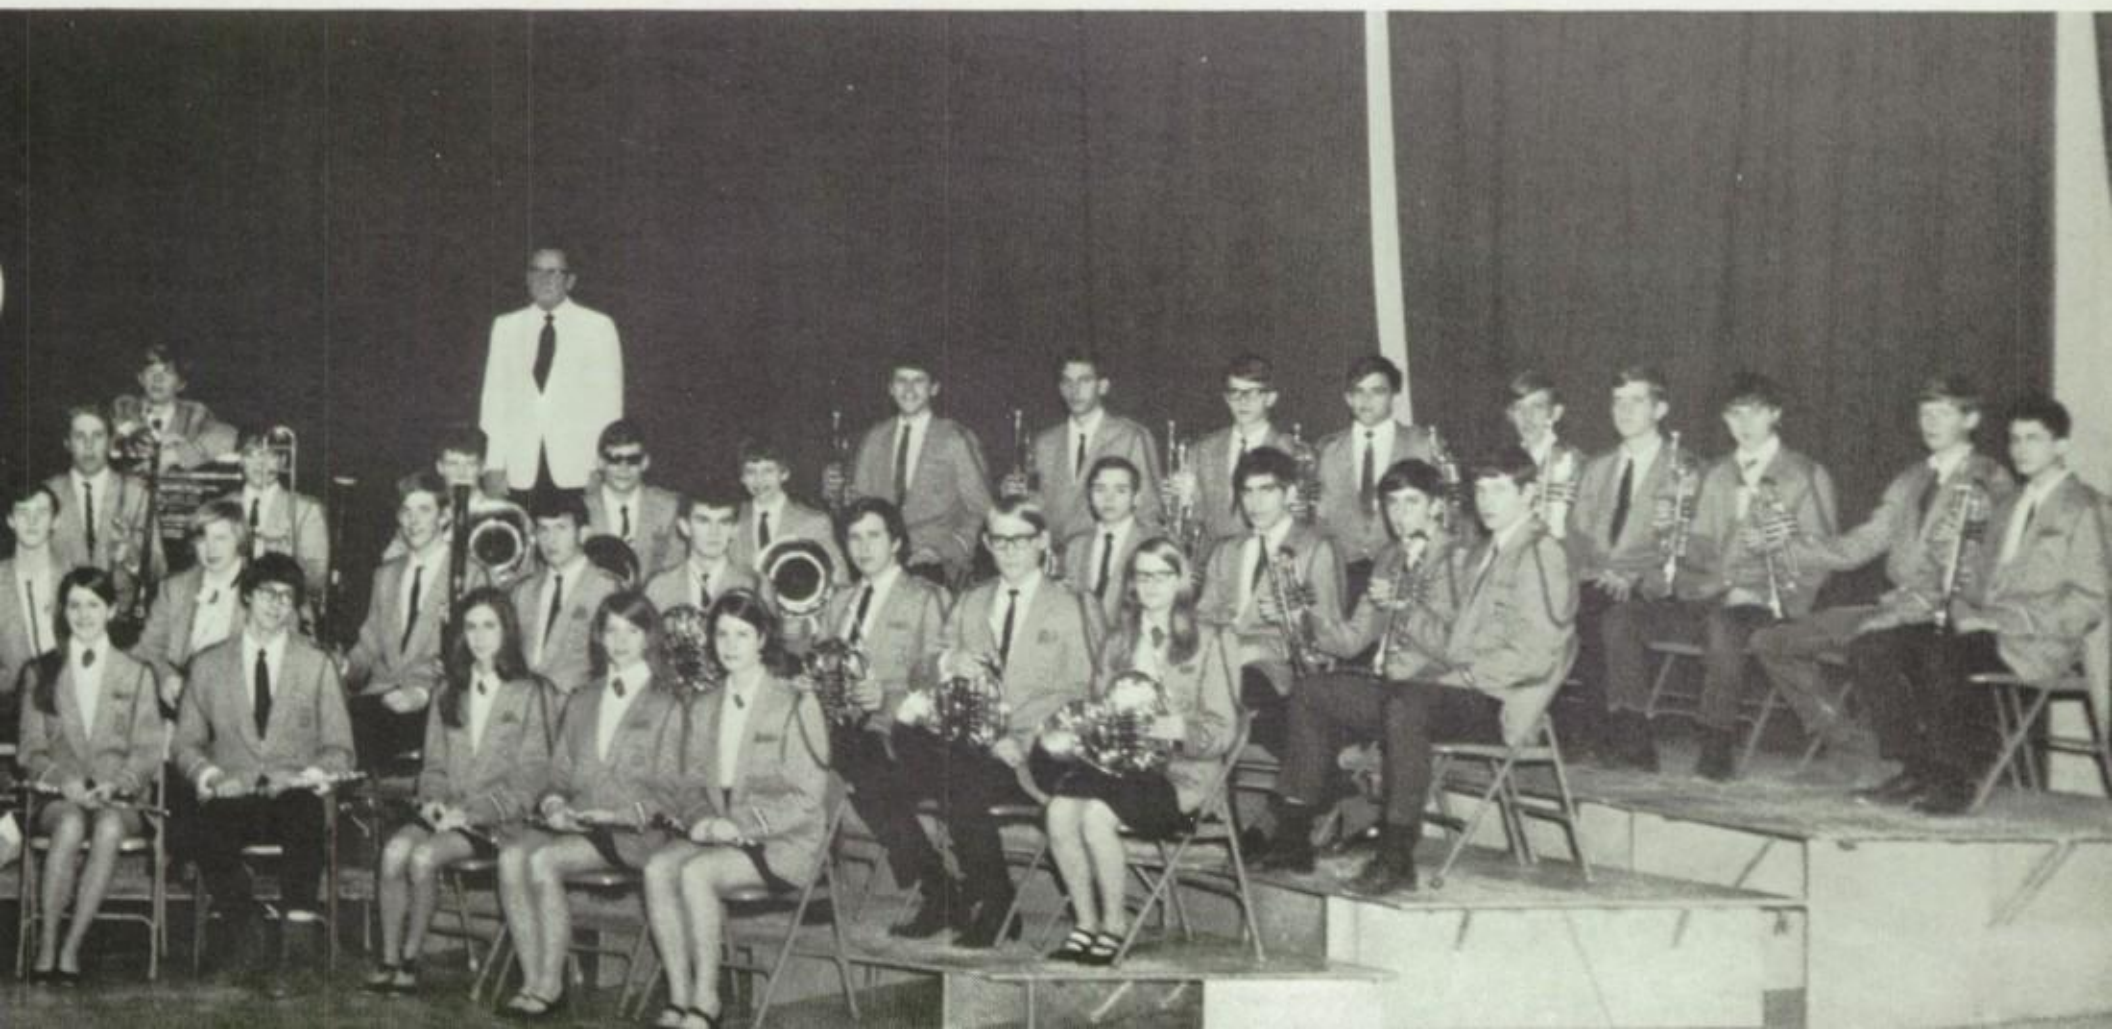
Orchestra

Chamber music is played at BHS by a small, dedicated group of students under the direction of Mr. Lamont. According to the tradition of this music, they are playing without a conductor actively waving a baton. Alison Lamont on clarinet is leading the group in Mozart's Quintet for Clarinet and Strings. Jana Cook is waiting to join the others in Mozart's Quartet for Oboe and strings. Other members, left to right, are Robert Toelle, Janet Horton, Steve Hunsberger, Jane Bevans, Carolyn Keating, Alison Newland, Naomi Steigman, and Ann Bevans. The director is recording the session and a class of English students and their teacher are sitting in as a rehearsal audience to expand their experience in listening to this kind of music.



Chorus

This year's Chorus worked hard and played hard, but always with a song in their hearts. The Modern Choir sported new formal attire, and performed for the community. The singers' love for music is what makes their efforts such spirited successes.

The exhilaration of watching dawn
turn blue in the mountains;
The quiet memories spent beside a chilly silver brook with guitar and poetry.
The wild moments when we could be innocent once again.
The wonderful friends;
The sunset turning orange;
And running with the wind
toward the mountain tops;
All the things that words
can't quite express--
The joys of camp and children.

BEFORE AFTER

Drill Team

As in years past, the '69-'70 Drill Team smiled on and on...a smile costs nothing, but gives much. It enriches those who receive it, without making poorer those who give it. It takes but a moment, but the memory of it sometimes lasts forever. None is so rich that he can get along without a smile, and none is too poor that he cannot be made rich by a smile. Some people are too tired to give you a smile. Give them one of yours, as none needs a smile so much as he who has no more to give.

The Record

Bellevue	34	Renton	0	Our first game of the season presented a challenge: last year Renton was rated number two in state and was up for their 24th straight win. We put together one of our best team efforts and demolished them 34-0. Mal Feser
Bellevue	27	Lake Wash	14	Being behind 14-13 in the third quarter, we knew we had to come together as a team, so in the fourth quarter we united and came out on top 27-14. "Ernie" Hjelm
Bellevue	39	Bothell	6	Getting a slow start on the Bothell squad, we fired up in the fourth quarter. We scored 19 points that quarter and cleared the bench, showing the fans just how much depth Bellevue had with a 39-6 stomp -Ron Gunderson
Bellevue	39	Mercer Is	12	After three wins, the Mercer game was built up to be our first tough contest. Both teams were 3-0 before the contest, however, our pride and ability proved to be too much for Mercer. -Tom Gowing
Bellevue	23	Newport	0	We met Newport when they were at full strength. Their hard-hitting defense proved hard to crack but in the second half we chalked up a 23-0 victory, a fitting conclusion for Homecoming '69. -Rob Thorlakson
Bellevue	13	Issaquah	7	A fourth quarter touchdown put Issaquah ahead. Only a team with pride and tremendous unity could win this one. The offense took the ball and scored in the last four minutes, demoralizing Issaquah. -Bill Rockey
Bellevue	54	Inglemoor	0	We knew Inglemoor had an improving squad from their convincing win over Redmond the week before, but we intimidated them within the first five minutes and the game was ours. -Steve Ward
Bellevue	35	Redmond	0	The Redmond game was a contest in which Bellevue could polish their offense and defense for the upcoming game against Interlake. It was Bellevue all the way in a 35-0 romp. -Steve Morrell
Bellevue	14	Interlake	14	We came into this game rated number one in the state with a tremendous desire for revenge after last year's close defeat. However, Interlake was a tough team, and despite our team's great effort, the game ended in a disappointing 14-14 tie. -Paul Myers
Bellevue	8	Sammamiah	6	Although Sammamish was a powerful team, having won six games in a row, we dedicated this game to Coach Svoboda. There was only one thing on the minds of every member of the team: to end the season with a final triumph for Coach. -Tim Allen

mps End an Era

The many faces of Coach Svoboda

CONCENTRATION

After coaching Bellevue football teams to seventy-one wins, twenty-three losses, and five ties over the past eleven years, Coach Frank Svoboda retired from football after the 1969 season. His last team was, in his opinion, the best he has ever coached.

After accumulating two wins, five losses, and one tie in his opening season, Svoboda never again had a losing year. Five times (including 1961, '62, '65, '66, and '69), the Wolverines were either KingCo champs or co-champs.

The announcement of Coach Svoboda's retirement came on November 14th, as his players assembled just before the Sammamish game. Following that final victory, he discussed his relationship with his favorite sport, football.

"I think Bellevue High School has established itself as a football power in the state and with their winning tradition, will always be at the top.

"Football gives boys things that they'll use the rest of their lives. It's the sport nearest to everyday life. I have to admire all boys who play football, because it's a sport of hard work, dedication, violent contact, and a lot of self-pride. If there is never another thing a boy learns from football, it will be self-pride, which hopefully will stay with them the rest of their lives.

"A lot of people told me at first that Bellevue was a tough place to coach football, because the kids were different: too academic, too much money, too many things to do, didn't have the hard-nose type kid. But I don't care what they say, because Bellevue kids are great: they can play football with anyone in the country, and they can be just as hard-nosed as any of them.

"I am proud to have been a part of Bellevue football and I certainly will miss it. I don't think there is a better place in the country to coach. The student body always had great spirit and the players themselves have really given an all out effort to play the game as it should be played."

Thanks, Coach. We'll never forget you.

The start of a shining high school football career began early for the graduating senior Wolverines of 1970. It could be well predicted by any of the coaches that the boys who made up the sophomore team of 1967 were of great potential. Their season average of 42 points to their opponents 2 was a good indication of their ability. As the team went on to J.V. play, they kept rolling up the victories ending with a season average of 37 points to their opponents 2. Going into this season the senior players had a perfect 14-0 record, and finished out their unbelievable high school football career at 23 wins, 0 losses and one tie.

The team of 1969 was made up of no individual stars, but instead was a close knit, well-polished unit. We were pressured from the start, being rated number one in the state in the first poll. Because of this every week was a challenge; we had to play like a championship team all the time, and not just be content to win.

There was a mutual respect between the players and coaches. We knew our own potential and limits, and through hard work and determination we strived to do our best. We could have done better, but we are proud of our record. Let it stand as an example of what a team that works for the benefit of the team can do.

Meet the Meat

The Junior Varsity and Sophomore football teams met with nearly the same amount of success this season as did the varsity. The Junior Varsity team, under the direction of Mr. Boyd Childs and Mr. Ed Consolo, won five games and lost two. Known as the "meat squad", the J.V.'s assimilated other teams' offenses and defenses and filled in for injured varsity players. The sophomores were coached by Mr. Robert Nollan and Mr. Charles Amundson, who guided them to a five win, one loss season. Under these coaches' directions, the incoming sophomores are introduced to the Bellevue football system and are taught to be winners.

Bellevue's Swinging Linksmen

For the first time in five years, Bellevue's golf team was not the supreme ruler of the King-Co League. We lost the championship to Interlake in our second to the last match which was Bellevue's only defeat of the season. This year's team was paced by Ed Jonson, a junior, but was dominated by seniors P.J. Evans, Lenny Brannen, Paul Lodine, Jim Gordon, and Doug Ward. We had a fine season this year and with the help of Ed Jonson, Jim Newton and other personnel, Coach Annas' squad should make a run for the title once again.

An Exhausted Roy Marshall

For the long-distance runners the end of track only means the beginning of Cross Country. Many started running in June. When September arrived coach Griffith increased the load, calling morning and evening turnouts to the sum of 100 miles a week. The load was never lessened even before meets, and we also turned out after meets. This intensive work accounted for our 6-3 dual meet season. But we were looking beyond, and the training and team spirit accounted for our finishing 2nd at the league meet, 5th at the district meet and a respectable 13th at state.

Mermaids—Take Your Marks!

Spurred on by individual talent and effort, the girls' swim team has successfully completed another season of league competition. Although frequent absences, busy schedules and pool conditions often hindered early morning workouts, the girls won a fifth place trophy out of eleven teams during the State Meet. Hopefully the knowledge and experience we gained as a competitive team will far outweigh the frustration which undoubtedly arises with every new sport.

After a soaring '68-69 season, the BHS Swim Team plumbed new depths. This year with a 2-6 record, the early birds were handicapped by the loss of several varsity swimmers and plagued by illness. Although the boys had a very slow start they were showing improvement toward the end of the season, winning two of their final three meets and achieving sixth place at the regional competition in Port Angeles. Under the shrill whistle and energetic direction of Coach Dale Griffith, six swimmers qualified for State finals.

This year, the girls' tennis team had a most rewarding season. We experienced a great amount of competition from other schools, yet always seemed to maintain our unity and enthusiasm. We were able to defeat Interlake, earning Bellevue five more points for the All Sports Trophy. Thoughts of another average cage season accompanied our first-game defeat against Burlington, but this year's Wolverines were out to prove that things were going to be different. We began the season with red-hot playing, piling up four straight victories and heading for our fifth against an undefeated Bothell team. The game was ours, team unity was polished, and we headed down the road to championship. Even though we dropped two heart-breakers by one point to Mercer Island and Sammamish, we still knew that we were champions, and we played that way for the rest of the season.

This year's wrestling team did not get immediate rewards for their efforts. They came later, as the team used its willingness to work hard and good sportsmanship to place sixth in the league meet. Since almost half of this year's varsity was sophomores, Coach Richards will have a sound nucleus for a successful team in the future.

Gymnasts Top the League

Jeanne Bomgardner

With the inspiration of a new coach, this year's gymnastics team once again led their league in competition. Though practices got trying due to crowded conditions, the girls look back on their season as being a successful one. This feeling of success does not only refer to their undefeated season, but it takes into account the strong unity they felt as a team.

The bouncing enthusiasm of Mike Coury, Paul Pinter, and Dan Quinn sparked this years gymnastics team. The remainder of the team is an unknown quantity but is shaping up well under the capable tutelage of Coach Rudy Peterson. This recent addition to the BHS sports program offers a real challenge and opportunity to its devotees.

Tom Levan

This year's baseball team sported seven returning lettermen, more than any of Coach Poulsen's previous teams. The seven boys (Tom Levan, Steve Ward, Dean Lewis, Ken Mason, Bill Rockey, Tom Gowing, Steve Morrell) proved that their experience could carry the team successfully through the 1970 season. A twenty-two game schedule gave ample opportunity to test this potential, and with the necessary confidence and ability, the Wolverines powerfully demonstrated to the KingCo teams that Bellevue was out to get the crown.

Bill Carlyon and Al Stultz

Bellevue's 1970 tennis team boasted an unusually large number of returning lettermen: seniors Mory Manca, Al Stultz, Bill Carlyon, Steve Chase, Al Oelschlaeger and Paul Myers, and juniors Bryce Perry and Don Pugh. With Bryce, Bill and Al Stultz being among the strongest players in the state, this year's team was rated as the favorite for the state title. As Mr. Shaw, with his usual foresight, stated: "With such excellent coaching, how can we lose?" The tennis team maintained and even surpassed the high standards of Bellevue's football, basketball and track teams in state competition, proving itself not only "one of the strongest and gayest teams" Coach Shaw has ever had, but the most outstanding team in Bellevue's history.

League Champs

Coach Nollan's track team had perhaps the most potential of any in BHS history. After placing third in State track competition last year, the nucleus of the team returned and again ranked high in final competition. Led by such individuals as Tim Allen in the hurdles, sprinters Leif and Dave Herald, pole vaulter Jeff Taylor, and long distance men George Naden and Scott Daggatt, the team demonstrated that hard work and spirit lead to success.

UPPERCLASS

A Time It Was, and What a

What things stand out in our minds as we look back on the last three years? Homecoming: not the victory in our Senior year, but the efforts and disappointment in our Junior year. Our cursed performance at the Rep and the lingering question: "Can you smell it?" The Wolf Pack with its uncensored enthusiasm. Number One Teams who showed the real meaning of teamwork. Those infamous assemblies with such celebrities as The Plastics Man. Weekend sheeting and that strange feeling of "snow" in mid-October. Our one-week interest in student government, during elections. This contagious disease--Senioritis. Pickle Point--it swings! Fine Arts and the exhilarating feeling when you've done the job well. Tutoring programs like Colman which presented a more realistic picture of life. Camp Counseling and realizing that kids hold the key to the world. Stimulating teachers who made a difference and encouraged involvement. Time has made us what we are, whatever we are, and what a time it was!

Seniors, Questions and Decisions

President
Tim Allen

I think this year's Senior Class would have to be one of the most difficult classes to analyze. It was said that we were the best class in the past five years. We proved that through Homecoming, money raising projects, and class dances. We made mistakes, but I still believe that this year's graduating class is one of the best. At times, it seems as though the Senior Class is putting out just enough to keep the school functioning...never really wanting to push to their full potential which lies within every individual. I don't mean to imply that the Senior Class is lazy, but I think the majority of the class has become individualistic rather than relying on the "group" for accomplishing things, which was the case in our Sophomore year. I hope that this apparent attitude, taken by most Seniors, will be beneficial in constructively leading toward the betterment of society.

BARBARA CHAPEL
ARTHUR R. CHAPMAN
The road goes ever on and on
  Down from the door where it began,
Now far ahead the road has gone,
  And I must follow if I can,
Pursuing it with eager feet,
  Until it joins some larger way
Where many paths and errands meet.
  And whither then, I cannot say.

UNDERCLASS

Class of '71

In thinking of traditional class ideas and government, one usually thinks of dances, football games, and the girl next door. In an age where uncertainty and strife surround the student in his community, nation and world, he can no longer be satisfied to concern himself only with the afore mentioned problems. It is certain that in the Bellevue community it is essential for students to become involved in the solutions of these problems for them to operate successfully in this world. For the class of '71 to have considered itself successful in this year's endeavors we must be able to look in retrospect at our actions and be able to view them as at least an attempt to break away from traditions of yesteryear.

Class of '72

"Ascendance" can be used to describe the introduction of the Class of '72 into the Bellevue High School way of life. The growth of spirit and friendship has been unparalleled to anything in the past. The greatest achievement of this year was the initiation of a new approach to class governement, one that operates without the hinderances of the foregoing precedent. Homecoming and the Class sponsored sock dance were other highlights. In the future we hope to develop further the outstanding scholastic and athletic abilities already displayed, and bring to maturity our great potential, as those before us have done.

Remember the Annual Affair!!

Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence. As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons. Speak your truth quietly and clearly; and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant; they too have their story.

Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit. If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter; for always there wiill be greater and lesser persons than yourself. Enjoy your achievements as well as your plans.

Keep interested in your own career, however humble; it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time. Exercise caution in your business affairs; for the world is full of trickery. But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.

Be yourself. Especially, do not feign affectiion. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.

Take kindly the counsel of the years, gracefully surrendering the things of youth. Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune. But do not distress yourself with imaginings. Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness. Beyond a wholesome discipline, be gentle with yourself. You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars; you have a right to be here. And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.

Therefore, be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be,, and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul. With all its sham, drudgery and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world. Be careful. Strive to be happy.

WELL DONE

The brilliance of color and the creativity of design shown by the Homecoming window of the Class of 1970, in its junior year, represent more than the traditional class competition. This window represented a peak of class enthusiasm, and will be remembered as a major expression of class unity. Homecoming, one of the highlights of Bellevue's all-school activities, brings into sharp focus the pride which we share in being a part of our school.
